NEWS NOTES.

State College opened with 350 students.

Forest fires have done great damage in Washington.

A New York Stock Exchange seat was sold for $81,000.

It is stated that the King of Belgium will visit the St. Louis World's Fair.

Fire destroyed an entire business block in the town of San Angelo, Tex.

A respected Negro was found dead in Lawrenceburg and murder is suspected.

Rockefeller has bought 90,000 acres in the Adirondacks for a quiet resting place.

Miss Annie Richards, of New York, died in a dentist's chair in Paris from the effects of gas.

J. P. Harrington, of Sioux Falls, S. D., shot and killed his divorced wife and committed suicide.

Prince Ye, a son of the King of Korea, is attending Ohio Wesleyan University at Delaware, O.

Mistaking his brother, John, for a burglar, Sam Kendlewood shot and killed him at Ironwood, Va.

The story that Pierpont Morgan is to assume direct control of the Louisville & Nashville railroad is denied.

Henry Crippens was given two years at his trial at Williamsburg on the charge of shooting James Vaughan.

Perry S. Minshall, a prominent citizen of Piedmont, W. Va., committed suicide with his young son's toy rifle.

Miss Virginia Lassiter, sister of Congressman Lassiter, of Virginia, was killed in a runaway accident at Petersburg, Va.

Stephen McCormick, the oldest member of Tammany Hall and oldest employee of New York City in point of service, is dead.

Mrs. William M. Stewart, wife of Senator Stewart, of Nevada, was thrown from an automobile and killed at Alameda, Cal.

Herman Hoelscher, a carpenter, of Covington, while despondent owing to ill-health, committed suicide by drowning himself in a pond.

The new bank recently organized at Harlan C. H., with W. W. Noe as president and W. W. Lewis cashier, will begin operations Oct. 1.

The Hately Packing Company has been organized in Chicago with a capital stock of $1,500,000. It will not affiliate with the trusts.

Bart Alvord, a notorious outlaw, over whose head a death penalty is hanging, voluntarily surrendered to the authorities in Arizona.

An Italian violinist touring this country played for nine hours without a break. He is now in the Bellevue insane pavilion in New York.

Twenty years ago the total bituminous coal output of the United States was about 50,000,000 tons a year, whereas now it is not far from 250,000,000.

An order for 18,000 eight-horse plows to be used for breaking up the virgin soil in South Africa, has been received by the Farquhar Agricultural Works at York, Pa.

In excavating for Shelbyville's Carnegie library, the contractor dug into an old burial ground. Indignant citizens stopped the work by threatening him with indictment.

Prof. Angelo Heiprin, president of the Philadelphia Geographical Society, reports that the recent eruption of Mont Pelee surpassed that of May 8 in that it extended over a greater area. He states that no part of the northern portion of Martinique is free from danger.

At the execution of Boileau Bryant, colored, at Nashville, Ga., for the murder of Town Marshall Hynds, Mrs. Elta Hynds Parker, a daughter of the murdered officer, witnessed the hanging from the scaffold and cut the rope when the Negro was pronounced dead.

Alexander R. Shephard, former governor of the district of Columbia during the existence of the territorial government, is dead in Mexico. He was given at one time the credit of nipping in the bud a scheme to remove the national capital to one of the Western States.

The Vanderbilt interests and the Pennsylvania system have formed a financial alliance that constitutes the greatest of all trusts. The combination will control 30,000 miles of railroad and dominate the railway transportation and coal mining of the East. Capital to the amount of $2,000,000,000 is represented.

Race troubles broke out again at Eldorado, Ill., when the house of John Bean, a colored farmer, was attacked by a mob. A volley of shots was fired into the house, though a number of militiamen were on the premises at the time. The farmer's barn was burned and two horses and 1,000 pounds of tobacco were lost.

Sir James Crichton Browne, M. D., in emphasizing the necessity for reform in the British Army sanitary organizations, claims that enteric fever during the South African war reduced the fighting force by 70,000 to 80,000 men. He claimed that this extended the war six months and cost from $300,000,000 to $350,000,000.

KINGSVILLE.

Mrs. Sophia Davis, of Pineville, arrived Wednesday to visit her brothers, W. L. and J. M. McCarty.

W. L. McCarty has sustained quite a loss by the delay of a car load of cans and will bring suit against the railroad company.

We are confident that every good democrat here regrets being denied the pleasure of voting for Editor W. P. Walton for railroad commissioner in this district.

Rev. Thompson, of the Methodist church, is thinking of locating in Indiana, but his congregation is very much in hopes he will continue to preach for them another year.

Mack Williams has bought of Logan Walls a house and lot for $125. James McCarty bought of Daniel Hester a small farm near the trestle, a portion of which Mr. McCarty has sold to the R. R. company, on which they intend to have a water tank.

The protracted meeting conducted by Elds. Berry and Brooks, of Lexington, closed Wednesday night with 38 additions to the church, "backsliders" included. Quite a number from other churches united with the Christian church during this meeting, which was certainly a most successful one. The good work might have gone on indefinitely had not the ministers been compelled to return to Lexington to enter school.

Mrs. A. P. Huns, sister, Miss Lena Reynolds, and Mr. L. D. Reynolds, of Stanford, were guests of the family of Postmaster J. L. Johnson. Lough Evans, of Junction City, was a guest at Hotel Pennybacker, Sunday. Page Woolford was over from Moreland Monday. Mack Williams, of Burgin, was here Saturday. Dr. J. L. McCarty, who recently enlisted in the U. S. Navy as surgeon dentist, is the guest of relatives here. Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor has returned from a visit to her son, Harve Taylor, in Louisville. Mrs. J. A. Wright, of Lexington, is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. W. R. Cundiff. Mrs. Sebastian Chevolette is very sick with tonsillitis. Her husband was called to her bedside Thursday. Master Mike McCarty is quite ill with symptoms of typhoid fever. Master Will McCarty has been very ill, but is better now. D. M. Creighton is suffering from hay fever—probably owing to the immense quantities of hay raised here.

CHURCH MATTERS.

There are 606 churches in Chicago. Transylvania Presbytery convenes at the Second Presbyterian church at Richmond to-day.

Rev. C. A. Strickland, of Alabama, has accepted a call to the Presbyterian church at Springfield at a salary of $1,200 a year.

Odd Fellows' Hall is nightly comfortably filled to hear "Bro." Barnes, who sits in a chair and only rises for dismissal, says the Paris Kentuckian.

A large German Catholic colony will be established shortly in Stearns county, Minn., by the Order of St. Benedict, which has just purchased a tract of 100,000 acres.

Rev. D. J. Ross preached his initial sermon at the Methodist church Sunday morning and those who heard it say it was a splendid effort. Rev. W. E. Arnold preached at his new charge at Versailles.

MATRIMONIAL.

Everett Baughman and Miss Jennie West, of Burnside, eloped to Huntsville, Tenn., and were married.

Harry Roswell, a youth of 17, and Miss Rose Madden, a maiden of 48, were married at Henderson.

A double wedding, in which all the contracting parties were named Votaw, and all distantly related to each other, took place at Mackville, Washington county.

Capt. Harry F. Buehler, a wealthy young business man of Philadelphia, and Miss Calla Beatty Hicks, the beautiful daughter of the late Judge Sim Hicks, of Somerset, were married at the Gibson Hotel, Cincinnati.

At Bowling Green, Circuit Judge Settle decided the contention over the lease of the Mammoth Cave Hotel. He holds that the bid of W. S. Miller was not filed within the limit specified for receiving bids and cannot be considered. He holds that Dr. W. W. Renshaw may take the lease providing he executes proper bond and agrees not to install H. C. Gaster as manager—at least not until the litigation between Gaster and the trustees of the cave is settled.

"Mother" Jones, known as the agitator among miners, is missing, and her daughter in New York City has appealed to the police at Parkersburg to assist in locating her.

The total exports of the United States for the eight months ending August 31 were $312,885,198 against $309,329,341 for the same period in 1901.

LANCASTER.

Ex-Sheriff Saunders shipped 77 225-pound hogs to the city recently.

Mrs. Mary Fox will rebuild on the site of the old Franklin Institute.

Eld. Moore closed his meeting Sunday night with about 12 accessions.

A. R. Denny and daughter, Mrs. Duncan, have taken rooms at the graded school building.

Mrs. Mary Fox has rented the "Best Hotel" and will occupy it until the construction of her dwelling.

The meeting of the building committee of the Christian church has been changed to Friday owing to the absence of several members.

Bert, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Embry, is very low of spinal meningitis. The physicians regard his recovery as doubtful.

There is to be a marriage of a Garrard farmer and a Lincoln county lady this week, but we withhold names until the license is issued.

J. L. McCarty sold to W. R. Cook a bunch of cattle at $4 25. Geo. Leavell sold a mule colt for $50. Price Bros. sold 30 hogs to Lawson & Fox at 6c.

Mr. Arch Walker, of Paint Lick, suffering from a cold, mistook a dose of Smith's liniment for a cough medicine, and was made very sick for a short time.

Scarlet fever still prevails in the county and six deaths have occurred in the Stone section. Mr. Clause, who only a week ago had a child to die from the malady, lost another Saturday.

Mrs. Lizzie Rice, of Hedgeville, was thrown from her buggy and narrowly escaped death. She was driving through a gate when her buggy was overturned and she suffered either a fracture or dislocation of her hip.

A delegation of Lancasters left for Louisville this morning to present their claims for the Southern railway to the Commercial Club. Lancaster citizens feel that Louisville men will hold to their promise to see the Southern extended through Garrard.

M. F. West has returned to Washington City. Mrs. Scrivener, of Cincinnati, is visiting the family of R. H. Bateson. Mrs. Percy Nolan and little son, of Washington, are visiting Mr. M. D. Hughes and family. Mrs. Simp Elkin left Monday for Atlanta. She was accompanied by her brother, Capt. Sam Duncan, who will spend the winter in the South. Miss Sallie Myers leaves soon to visit in Lebanon. Leslie Anderson has returned from Indianapolis and will enter Central University. Miss Maud Miller left Monday for her home in Lexington. Mr. R. E. Hughes arrived Sunday from Louisville to visit relatives. Theodore Wintersmith, of Louisville, has joined his wife at W. R. Cook's. Mr. E. C. Hopper, secretary of the Latonic Racing Club, is here on a visit. Miss Sue Sublette, of Lexington, has been visiting Mrs. R. E. McRoberts. Mr. S. C. Denny and wife are at home after a trip to Atlantic City. H. M. Ballou and family are in Cincinnati. Miss Lenna Hobbs and brother, Joe, have gone to join their mother in New Mexico. Miss Nannie Goodloe has gone to Talladega, Ala., to take a position as teacher. J. C. Thompson, Miss Thompson and R. L. Jennings and wife, of Paint Lick, are attending the Cincinnati Fall Festival.

Rufus Moss and family will leave soon for Oklahoma. John Kinnauld, of Columbus, Ohio, is visiting his brother, W. H. Kinnauld. Wm. Collier, of Illinois, is the guest of relatives here.

HUBBLE.

L. P. Weaver is putting a new roof on his dwelling.

Mrs. M. B. Eubanks and children took in the Somerset fair.

Don't forget to attend J. S. and E. T. Minor's sale Thursday, 18th.

James McKechnie and A. P. Sloan have bought them a corn harvester.

Eubanks & Hubble are arranging to show their fine jack and mule at the Louisville State fair.

Eld. B. J. Pinkerton, of Stanford, will fill Bro. Moore's pulpit here Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

A fine girl has arrived at J. C. Eubanks'. Be of good cheer, Crit, we can't always have things like we want them.

Agents interested in carrying the mail have been around securing names that are in favor of a free delivery system. As we understand it it will only be delivered once a day along the pikes and we are to have one mail a day instead of two, as we now have it. Each family to purchase a box, putting same up at his gate, or at the mouth of their lane or county road at the pike. What accommodations will be given to the renter or hired hand, who lives in the cabins along the river and creeks who do not get out very often for their mail, we have not learned yet. But hope that when all the country postoffices are done away with, that something may be given in their stead that all the people can use as well or better by furnishing them mail as often and as convenient as at present.

MR. M. F. ELKIN.
A splendid citizen, who, with his family, left last week to make his home in Lexington.

IN NEIGHBORING COUNTIES.

A Middlesboro man captured a giant bull frog with two heads and five legs. H. T. Gray has resigned as individual book-keeper in the Bank of Perryville.

Miss Gussie Robards will lift the veil from the handsome Confederate shaft at Harrodsburg today.

The Farmers National Bank of Danville, gave $500 to the right-of-way fund of the Southern railway.

The sensational case in which John A. Logan, a Richmond liveryman, was charged with burning his barn, was ended in a verdict of not guilty.

On the docket of the Rockcastle circuit court which began yesterday there are 106 equity cases, 23 common law actions, 13 criminal prosecutions and 67 misdemeanors.

The Citizens' National Bank of Monticello, has been authorized to begin business with a capital of $25,000. A. Fairchild will be president and Chas. McConaughy cashier.

We don't particularly object to Ed Walton's habit of crediting items taken from this paper to the London Kentuckian since we succeeded it, but when the Paris Kentuckian credits copies a couple of items and credits them to the Mountain Echo, we kick, and would like to kick the man who did it—Mountain Democrat.

The National Association of Mexican war veterans will hold their annual meeting at Paris, Ky., Sept. 25. All survivors of the Mexican war, their widows and children are invited to be present. Address Col. J. C. Craddock, Paris, or 1st Vice President W. S. McChesney, Lexington, Ky.

Uncle Ben Robinson is proud of this Garrard county democrat; he tells the News that a few days since he was asked the name of Mrs. Robert Harding, and upon being informed, he said he had twice at his house, a boy and a girl, and he intended to name one for Mr. Harding and one for his wife. The gentleman is Mr. George Huffman and he is a mighty good democrat—Danville News.

Some money was cleared by the fair company, but not a dollar will go into the pockets of any member of the organization, but will be spent on the grounds. More buildings will be erected, among which will be a large floral hall, and the ladies can rest assured that in the next premium list the proper space will be set aside for the exhibits that are pleasing to them—Somerset Republican.

Marital infidelities almost caused the death of an infant six weeks old at Danville. George Gregory, colored, attacked his wife, and she attempted to run away from him, but caught her foot in a door sill and fell down the steps toward a well. She was carrying the infant, which bounced into the well and fell 20 feet into the water below. The woman continued to flee, but Gregory stopped and fished the infant out.

At McKee, Jackson county, a special jury was impaneled to try J. E. Holcomb, James Brumell and William Lejeer on a charge of incendiarism. Lejeer had set fire to the store of A. J. Smith, near Maulden and Holcomb had paid them $15 and three pints of whiskey to do the job. The three were held over to the circuit court in bonds of $1,000 each. Holcomb had been considered one of the leading merchants of Jackson county. Smith, whose store was burned, was a competitor.

DEVoured BY WORMS.

Children often cry, not from pain, but from hunger, although fed abundantly. The entire trouble arises from inanition, their food is not assimilated, but devoured by worms. A few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge will cause them to cease crying and begin to thrive at once, very much to the surprise and joy of the mother. 25c at Penny's Drug Store.

Fugitive Taylor is still wedded to his old habit of reaching for his hip pocket. But so long as he doesn't sneak into a building and assassinate the street car conductor we suppose he will continue to be coddled by Durbin and others of his ilk.—Lexington Democrat.
